ABOUT CONFERENCE

WCAB 2027 gathers clinicians, researchers, policy leaders and healthcare professionals in Prague for two days of scientific exchange.

Sessions span opioid, alcohol and stimulant use disorders, polysubstance use and behavioral addictions, together with harm reduction, medication-assisted treatment, recovery support services, and prevention and early intervention. The neuroscience of addiction underpins the clinical programme throughout.

Because practice in this field depends as much on policy and service design as on clinical evidence, the programme is structured so that researchers, practitioners and policy leaders attend the same sessions. Work is presented as oral or poster presentations.

REASONS TO ATTEND
